Peek Inside the Book

Yet falling in love is not the same as being able to love. Czesaw Miosz, Selected Poems Selected Poems //

Human reason is beautiful and invincible.No bars, no barbed wire, no pulping of books,No sentence of banishment can prevail against it.It puts what should be above things as they are.It does not know Jew from Greek nor slave from master. Czesaw Miosz, Selected Poems Selected Poems //

Reader's Opinions

From a poem "On Angels": I have heard that voice many a time when asleep and, what is strange, I understood more or less an order or an appeal in an unearthly tongue: day draws near another one do what you can. Another poem "Gift": A day so happy. Fog lifted early,...

I've read at least one work by every Nobel Literature Laureate, and, with the exception of St. John Perse, I can think of no poet less deserving of that award than Milosz. This is less a review than it is a warning beacon attempting to dissuade you from crashing on the rocks.
